Service

Our diverse range of services and flexibility is what makes us different than other commercial cleaning companies. We take a great deal of pride in providing our customers with the best service available.

Pricing

Our one-on-one, grassroots approach has built our company a large clientele over the past 15 years and probably has a lot to do with the wonderful relationships we have with all of our customers. Our employees take pride in providing the highest quality commercial cleaning services for some of the most competitive rates in the industry.

What We Believe is Most Important to Our Success

We have found that the most important factor for excellence in a janitorial service is supervision. The second most important factor is communication with the customer.

1. You should not have to supervise the janitors; we will supervise.
2. You will need to communicate your needs and your desires for a cleaning service.

This in particular may seem ridiculous; "Why we just want it cleaned," you might say. You cannot imagine from our perspective in the business what a difference in personalities will do for each business's desired cleaning. Some customers contract for a rigorous and meticulous cleaning while others contract for a much more moderate and reduced service. It is very important for you the customer to know exactly what your janitorial company is contracting to do for you. It is also as important for us the contractor to know exactly the customer's needs.

In a perfect world every employee of ours would perfectly understand every instruction immediately; each janitor would know exactly how to respond to every situation automatically, and we would automatically know how to serve you. All of this we wish would happen with the greatest of ease.

In our world relationships are complex every person is so individual that our company's relationship to each customer is like any relationship in life, it is complex.

We have developed a simple but comprehensive plan to address the complexities; it is our supervision program, which we've developed to meet the specific needs of each customer. These detailed systems along with constant, efficient communication with our customers, is the only way we can serve you, as our customer.

Sincerely,

Tony Mazza
